The small intimate campus creates a strong support system, helping of the classroom. The knowledge and skills I gained are irreplaceable. Choosing Brescia was easy for me. Not only would I be close to 200 student clubs and associations, but Brescia also offers 6 varsity sports. One of the largest intramural sports programs in Canada.

WHEN YOU’RE A STUDENT AT BRESCIA, YOU ARE ALSO A STUDENT AT WESTERN UNIVERSITY.

That is because Brescia is affiliated with Western, one of the largest and most prestigious universities in the province of Ontario. You will benefit from the small classes and close-knit community at Brescia as well as have access to all that Western and its other affiliates have to offer. When you graduate from Brescia, your degree will be granted by Western University.

Choosing Brescia was easy for me. Not only would I be close to the resources that Western University offers, I felt confident Brescia would help me explore my academic interests while supporting my personal and social pursuits. Even though I was excited to start University, I was nervous, too. Would I meet people who had the same interests? Would the courses be too hard for me? Through the Bridging Program, my fears were put to rest. At Brescia, I am surrounded by positive peers, mentors, and professors who encourage me to do my best. I’m surrounded by women who want to learn and be educated. I really stand by Brescia’s vision of educating and empowering strong women who are committed to social justice and the world around them. It is critical that we, as women, aren’t afraid to share our ideas and beliefs. The experiences I’ve had at Brescia have strengthened who I am. There is a niche for everyone here. I know I belong at Brescia.

Beautiful Brescia

The Brescia campus is, in a word, stunning. It has a park-like feel with an abundance of trees and green space. You will see the occasional deer, goose, and other wildlife. Your room in Clare Hall will have a room with a view so you can enjoy nature when you are indoors, too.

Yilei ‘Angel’ Zhang

When I applied to Brescia, I was attracted to the beautiful residence. I really enjoy living in Clare Hall because it is a short walk to my classes and convenient to everything. I always know what is happening on campus because the residence assistants post reminders about upcoming events and other important things. I like all of the furniture that came with my room—especially the queen bed and the bedside lamp because I like to read before I go to sleep. On weekends, I spend time in the lounge, watching TV shows. It is also a good place for making friends. I also love the food and atmosphere at the Mercato. I like to work there with a cup of coffee or sit at a big table and chat with my friends over some french fries. You can get many different kinds of food there, from Japanese sushi to Korean kimchi to Indian curry and Chinese dumplings. My favourite is Korean BBQ short ribs.

YOU WILL LIVE IN OUR AWARD-WINNING RESIDENCE.

KINESIOLOGY | BERMUDA

Coming from a small island where my biggest class had 25 students, I wanted to go to a university that offered me something similar. Brescia was the perfect choice. The class sizes are just right. The International Bridging Program was instrumental in helping me adjust. It offers many opportunities to see and experience London. It’s also where I made my first international friend. Because Brescia has a large number of international students, there are many opportunities to learn about other cultures and also to more fully embrace your own. Living in residence made me feel right at home, too. Not only do you have your own space, but you also are encouraged to get to know everyone on your floor through all the wonderful activities. The environment at Brescia is very relaxed. The professors actually care about the students. I feel peaceful here. I appreciate Brescia for extending its welcoming and loving arms to me. It’s a lovely university.

CLASS OF 2013 | SOCIOLOGY | FROM NEW DELHI, INDIA
CURRENTLY RESIDING IN NEW YORK CITY | PROGRAMME ASSOCIATE, UNITED NATIONS

As a Programme Associate for the United Nations, I provide operational and programmatic support to the U.N. peacekeeping missions across the globe. I’m also working on the Gender Parity Strategy for the Department for Peacekeeping Operations. Brescia prepared me for my career by combining an academically challenging environment with an emphasis on values and leadership and by facilitating holistic development, a thirst for knowledge, and a strong desire to leave a positive imprint on the world. Brescia is known for being a trailblazer, and I wanted an education that would make me question my opinions and beliefs. What stays with me today is the authenticity and engagement of the community, the breadth and guidance of my professors, and the warmth of memories.

Meghan Vollebregt
CLASS OF 2015 | PSYCHOLOGY | FROM BRANTFORD, ONTARIO
CURRENTLY RESIDING IN LONDON, ONTARIO | PURSUING COMBINED MASTER OF CLINICAL SCIENCE AND DOCTOR OF PHILOSOPHY, WESTERN UNIVERSITY

The leadership opportunities I received at Brescia allowed me to develop a sense of confidence that has served me well in my education and in my life. As a student at Brescia, I had research opportunities and gained the practical knowledge needed to enter the graduate program of my dreams. Brescia helped me develop a sense of confidence that has stayed with me beyond my time at Brescia. I am also very grateful for the connections I developed and still maintain with my professors at Brescia. When I think about my time at Brescia, I remember the personal growth that I experienced over my four years. I remember the kindness and compassion that was shown from staff, students, and professors, and I remember the ‘sense of home’ I felt when I was on campus.

MANAGEMENT & ORGANIZATIONAL STUDIES | NASSAU, THE BAHAMAS

In high school, I won an essay and speech contest, which led to a scholarship to attend a college in New York. But I chose Brescia after meeting my future academic advisor when she visited my high school in The Bahamas. I realized Brescia was a place I could call home. I love experiencing Brescia's small class sizes and close-knit community while still having access to Western University. Brescia is a community that empowers women and encourages us to unlock our potential and take the lead. I've learned that being a leader is more than just having authority. It's about taking initiative. Even if we do not have authority, it's about using your knowledge, skills, and experience to motivate and inspire others. It's about taking initiative. Even if we do not have a formal leadership role, we take on leadership in everyday life. It's important to have the tools and understanding of what being a leader really means.
